Organizing Committee: Scott Morris, Matt Pruitt, Jon Pascal

The timer will make sure each candidate does not go over their allotted time by using a series of colored paper indicating 15 seconds remaining (yellow), and time over (red). We will have written questions ahead of time that will be read by the moderator. Questions will be solicited from the public ahead of time online and via email. People will need to submit a question and the review committee will review and select the six questions that will be asked.

We will have tables and chairs for the candidates at the head of the room. There is an existing PA system that includes a wireless microphone. The candidates will need to pass the microphone amongst themselves during the program so the audience may hear their responses. We will produce name tags for the candidates that will be placed on the table in front of them. We will also provide Yes/No cards that will be used for the lightening round.

Candidate Material:

Candidates may bring campaign handouts for distribution.
